Ma eva

Welcome, in Tahitian

la ora na

It often begins with 'Hello'. An everyday hello probably doesn't mean much but, when said at a key moment, it can change all kinds of things. Imagine the following: you've just arrived at Papeete. It has been a long voyage. The first words you hear are 'Maeva' and 'la ora na', spoken warmly with a smile, the 'r' rolled. Now you're there. The words 'welcome' and 'hello' are at the very heart of Polynesian hospitality.

They herald the start of a voyage marked by friendly conviviality and will precede every encounter you have with the local people on land, with the ship's crew, and with the Gauguins and the Gauguines: the hosts present by your side throughout your stay on board.

Having become part of the PONANT family in 2019, Le Paul Gauguin distils the typically relaxed, international atmosphere offered by the company into an ambiance decidedly different from that of the other ships in the fleet.

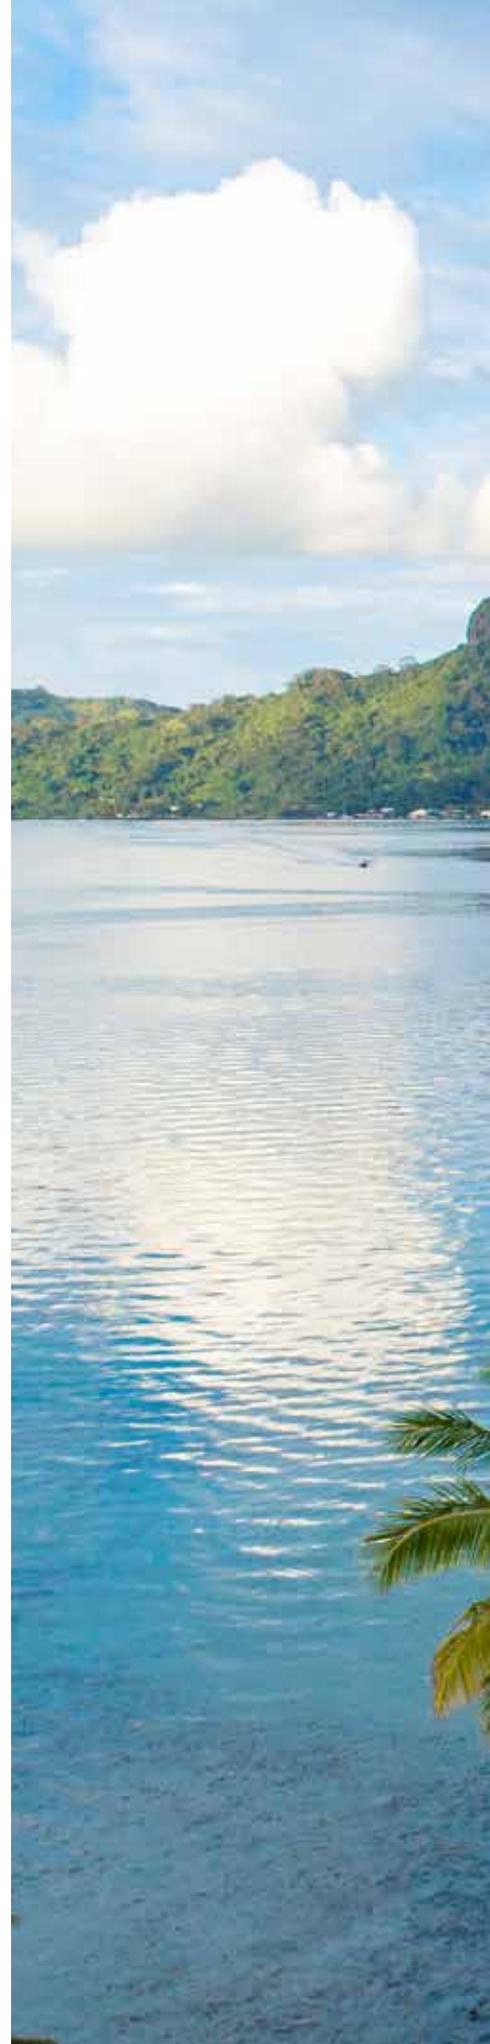

Designed especially for the shallow waters of the South Pacific, Le Paul Gauguin also has its own particular adeptness to offer. It takes you, gently and smoothly, from the Society Islands to Fiji via the Tuamotu Archipelago and the Marquesas. Each port of call brings out your mana, that special aura given off by every being, every element. The scenery and surroundings play a large part in this. The private island of motu Mahana, idyllic beaches, countless lagoons, seabeds teeming with life, wild jungles, dizzying peaks – as the days pass, a veritable mosaic comprised of thousands of shades of green and blue fills and permeates you, bringing serenity. "C'est que du bonheur!" – it's nothing but joy – little by little, the mantra of this unique region takes on its full meaning. Ready for the voyage?

Happy reading,

The spirit of
Paul Gauguin
CRUISES

Embark on a true immersion in the South Pacific and a perfect initiation to the rich traditions of Polynesia. An award-winning ship, Le Paul Gauguin infuses its guests with the Polynesian spirit on voyages where relaxation and changes of scenery are the order of the day.

6 reasons to sail aboard Le Paul Gauguin

1 A regional expert

One hundred and thirty years ago, the painter Paul Gauguin settled in Tahiti in search of a "sky without winter". For more than 20 years, the ship named in his honour and designed to navigate the shallow waters of the South Pacific has taken guests on a discovery of this far away part of the world where time seems to stand still. Wild islands cut by tormented reliefs, deep valleys, lush jungles, precious lagoons and secluded coves... Each moment on board Le Paul Gauguin promises a unique way of exploring the region.

2 Unprecedented routes

All Le Paul Gauguin itineraries have been designed to offer you an authentic experience of Polynesia and the islands of the South Pacific. Tahiti, Moorea, Bora Bora, the Tuamotus, the Marquesas, the Cook Islands, Fiji and Tonga: lasting from 7 to 14 nights, our trips offer you both a first discovery of these enchanting islands and time to get to know the South Pacific, its cultures and traditions. The many excursions and activities offered on each stopover ensure you don't miss out on anything in this unique environment.

3 A ship with the personal touch

Le Paul Gauguin has 165 staterooms and suites, each offering its own view of the incredible surroundings. To make sure you enjoy your trip with complete peace of mind, the ship has 1.5 crew members per guest, one of the best ratios in the cruise industry. The service is therefore very attentive and contributes to the warm on-board atmosphere.

More sustainable tourism

We have made many commitments in the pursuit of more responsible tourism. Here are a few of them:

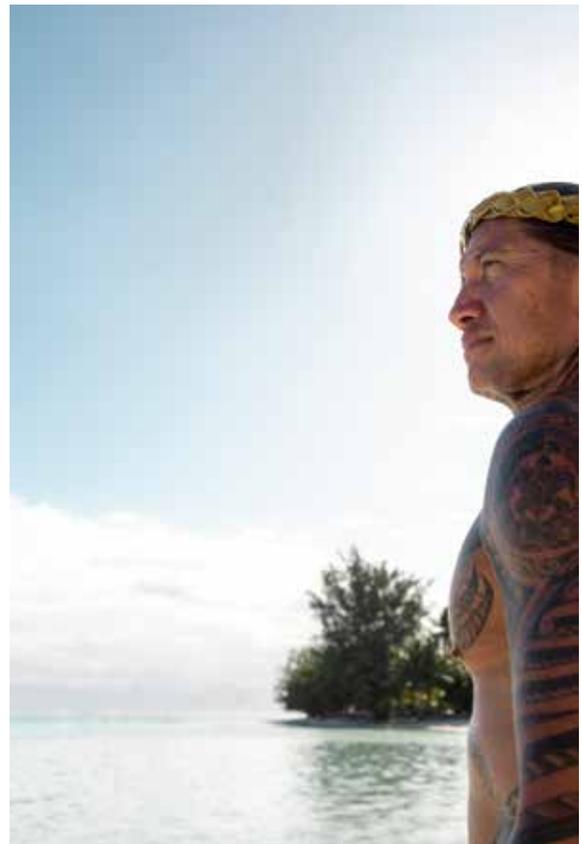

- To consider the whole world to be a "zone with controlled sulphur oxide emissions" since 2019 and "nitrogen" by 2025.
- To reduce CO₂ emissions by 15% by 2026 and 30% by 2030 compared to 2019 levels.
- To be a driving force alongside the Blue Nature Alliance to create 18 million km² of protected marine areas by 2025.
- To ensure the re-use of 80% of waste by 2026.
- To completely eliminate single-use plastic by 2022.

An all-inclusive experience

Taking advantage of an all-inclusive offer means you can relax completely and enjoy your holiday to the full. Meals and snacks, a wide selection of drinks, room service, butler service for certain suites and staterooms, nautical equipment (masks and snorkels, stand-up paddleboards), entertainment and exclusive access to a private beach and a private islet are thus included in the price of your cruise.

A unique aura, the mana

Idyllic landscapes, earthly paradises, thousand-year-old culture, bewitching dances... Open yourself up to the mana, the sacred force of Polynesia, which permeates all decks of the ship, while in the surroundings of sumptuous decor, guided by our joyous Gauguines and Gauguins Polynesian hosts. Mana is an almost palpable force that breathes its magic into your voyage.

Life on board

On board, the relaxed, international atmosphere, friendliness and attentive service make every moment memorable.

There are songs, cultural exchanges, pareo knotting and wreath weaving workshops, Polynesian dance classes and more. You will be able to enjoy an authentic immersion in this rich culture through interaction with them.

Blending in with the surrounding scenery, the pool is ideal for long periods of relaxation and contemplation.

Located on the pool deck, close to the Grill restaurant, La Palette is the ideal place to relax or enjoy a lively evening. Guests like to linger on its open terrace to listen and dance to the artists who take turns to perform there.

The Deep Nature spa offers a wide choice of massages and Algetherm treatments, based on marine cosmetics. The fitness room offers the full range of machines and weight training equipment needed to stay in shape.

The shop features a collection of gift items, clothing, and jewellery made with Tahitian pearls.

There is entertainment on board every day, including local artists invited on board, piano concerts and dance evenings. The pleasure of the discoveries made on land continues with engaging lectures given by the experts who accompany you during your trip.

A sweet Polynesian dream

Your feet in the sand and your head in the sky...
Every moment on board or during your stopover is designed to offer you a holiday with a change of scenery, between absolute rest, delight and joie de vivre.

The symphony of the senses

An enthralling look at the world

It's a peaceful night beneath the starry sky on board Le Paul Gauguin. Lulled by the gentle lapping of the waves, the ship glints and gleams with the reflections of the sky, first silvery, then orangey pink. Suddenly, the disk of the sun emerges from the horizon, setting the sky ablaze. A lagoon, displaying multiple shades of blue, sparkles before you. White sandy beaches are thrown into relief beneath luxuriant natural foliage. The serrated peaks of the mountains, magnetic, exert an irresistible attraction. The call of other kinds of forests, with corals in the place of trees, reverberates within you. Take your masks and snorkels and head off to see the multicoloured fish and manta rays that inhabit these undersea gardens.

Perceiving the singing of the elements

Sounds become dim and silence reigns beneath the surface. Or perhaps not. Listen very carefully, and the rolling of the waves, the swishing of the sands, the murmuring of the corals, the squeaking of seashells and the song of the dolphins give rise to a gentle, soothing symphony. On land, the vegetation, abundant and scented, is also rustling under a warm breeze. The air is vibrating to the rhythm of traditional drums. On the ship's deck, your Polynesian hosts are blowing into shells known as queen conchs. The wind blends with the orchestra and whispers in the ebony hair of the Gauguines, almost giving voice to their mana: the intangible character of that which is pure and wise.

Captivating island fragrances

The light breeze waving the hair carries exotic perfumes. A slow intake of breath transports you on a sensory voyage. You perceive first the captivating fragrance of monoï. The subtle perfume of tiaré flowers, formed into garlands, is sensed next, followed by notes of vanilla. On the island of Taha'a, its delicious aroma also reigns supreme, dominating the others; encounter the mostly widely cultivated and prized spice of the Polynesian archipelagos.

Exquisite exotic flavours

The scent of vanilla perfumes both the air of Polynesia and its traditional dishes. Coconut, fish, spices, tropical fruits... Awaken your taste buds to their rich flavours. On motu Mahana, our private island, the smell of a Polynesian barbecue brings the guests together for a time of friendly warmth and enjoyment. As you wander around, give in to the temptation of the various blends and mixes of flavours that reflect the Polynesians' refined art of living. Market delicacies, food tastings, food trucks, lunches by the water: a whole world of flavours are just waiting to be explored.

Delicate touches

The day slows, as if to the rhythm of deep, easy breathing. Movements become gentler, adopting a different pace. The sensation of touching becomes accentuated. The caress of the white sand on your skin, the gentle tickle of the tropical fish around you on your snorkelling adventures, the expert strokes of the masseurs keeping the art of taurumi alive, an ancient practice focused on letting go and featuring the use of local oils, flowers and plants... A voyage on which your whole world bathes in softness and everything becomes exquisite delight.

"Pure moments of escape that contribute to the magic of the destination!"

Extract from a guest's logbook.

Le Paul Gauguin
in the waters of Bora Bora.

The journey to the end of the world is more than 15,000 km long, with a 25-hour journey and a 12-hour time difference. Crossing the planet, crossing time... Visiting these Pacific islands is worth it, and the change of scenery is such that you never really realise what you are experiencing. It took me 12 days of travel and a lot of memories to become fully aware of this.

My first reaction on boarding is that Le Paul Gauguin has a soul. It is a medium-sized ship with a bright decoration that contrasts with the dark wood of the furniture. Just the right balance between modernity and authenticity, in keeping with the destination. The spaces are both friendly and intimate. As the days go by, I find myself taking ownership of these pleasant places. I enjoy my breakfast at La Véranda restaurant, which is open to the outside, very bright, and decorated in a very soft style. I can enjoy a cocktail at the cosy piano bar, where the bartenders take care of you – the whole crew is very attentive and quickly picks up on everyone's tastes – and melodies are played on the piano. I can sit on the sun loungers by the pool and watch the sunset with live music, either on my own or with other guests.

Sunset on deck 9.

The Gauguines and Gauguins.

Moments outside of time

The atmosphere on board is friendly. It's nice to feel that I can talk to anyone. With many nationalities represented, the exchanges are all the richer. We feel that we are on a relaxing and epicurean journey. The Gauguins and Gauguines, the Polynesian hosts aboard Le Paul Gauguin, have a lot to do with it! They are so charming. Every day they organise activities and surprise us with dances and songs to the sound of the ukulele. And every day I learn a little more about their culture, their language, the meaning of their tattoos... They made the arrival in Rangiroa a dream for me: we, the guests, were stationed on deck 9 to admire the entrance to the atoll. The Gauguines and Gauguins started singing and dancing which, combined with the scenery, made for a very enchanting scene.

A man on board a canoe in Rangiroa.

I felt the same jubilation as the dolphins escorted us to our arrival in the Rangiroa channel, the sun disappearing below the horizon. They were having fun on the bow, as if to say goodbye. It was a moment that felt out of time. It must be said that the underwater fauna here is truly exceptional. For example, I participated in the black tip shark and stingray swimming trip in Moorea. I savoured every moment of this rare, once-in-a-lifetime encounter!

Conviviality at any time

On the land side, Fakarava was my favourite. This long atoll, like a beach that stretches to infinity, has a huge lagoon. No matter where you are, you can always see this beautiful blue. The fact that you can cycle across the width of the island in a matter of seconds gives you the feeling of being lost in the middle of nowhere, with the turquoise blue lagoon of paradise on one side and the wilder ocean on the other. The colourful houses, the small restaurants with their feet in the water, the lush nature and the brightly coloured flowers add a little more charm to this place. When we arrived on the island, a family welcomed us with traditional songs and dances. As we left, pirogues followed the boat back to the ship.

The pure moments of change of scenery followed one another and, combined, contributed to the magic of the destination! Beyond the idyllic landscapes and all their incredible colours, I will remember the friendliness of the inhabitants, their heart-warming smiles, and their philosophy of life: "It's all good". It's a real shot of optimism and positive vibes!

A day in paradise

A strip of white sand rising up from the coral reef, a translucent sea, deckchairs in the shade of palm trees, a Polynesian barbecue and cocktails served as you sit with your feet in the water: welcome to the motu Mahana, our private islet specially reserved for you for an idyllic day.

During each of the itineraries on board Le Paul Gauguin, we offer you a day out of time, for an authentic escape, off the island of Taha'a.

This island interlude is an opportunity to enjoy real moments of relaxation in a heavenly setting.

At lunchtime, grilled meats prepared on the spot and coconut water directly from the fruit will satisfy the most demanding palates.

The Gauguines and the Gauguins contribute to the gaiety of this exceptional day by animating it with traditional songs and dances.

In addition to the pleasure of relaxing on the deckchairs in the shade of the palm trees, you can enjoy snorkelling in the pristine waters, kayaking or paddleboarding.

Sung about by Jacques Brel and a source of inspiration for Paul Gauguin, the wild, unspoiled Marquesas Islands are yours to behold on this itinerary, the most comprehensive one to the 'Land of Men'. During the five ports of call we give you, take time to thoroughly explore French Polynesia's most northerly archipelago.

Opposite: beach at Fakarava in the Tuamotu Islands.
Below: traditional dance in Nuku Hiva, Marquesas Islands.

Highlights

- Live the exceptional: the ports of call in the Marquesas: Hatihe'u on the island of Nuku Hiva, with its superb valley, and Hakahau on the island of Ua Pou, one of the last of French Polynesia's islands to be explored. With a beach of black sand at its edge and its rocky volcanic pitons, the village offers an unsettling panorama.
- UNESCO World Heritage Site: the biosphere reserve of Fakarava, the world's second-largest lagoon, home to unique flora and fauna, grey sharks and untouched coral reefs.
- The stops in the idyllic atolls of Fakarava and Rangiroa, in the Tuamotus.
- History and culture are in the forefront on the island of Hiva Oa, home to the largest stone sculptures in the Marquesas, which are said to be linked to the famous tiki of Easter Island.
- Discover Polynesian culture: ancient crafts in Fatu Hiva, sculpted works in Tahuata, sculpted stone tiki and 7,000 petroglyphs in Taiohae (Nuku Hiva).
- Experience a memorable day on motu Mahana, our own private slice of paradise: treat yourself to sand between your toes and a sumptuous barbecue lunch.
- Landscapes: towering peaks, imposing cliffs, plantations, forests, turquoise lagoons, unspoilt beaches, deserted coves and underwater caves.
- Possibility of diving (PADI Open Water Diver or equivalent).

A complete journey

To help you explore the islands you visit, we offer a wide range of excursions. And, to complete your trip, our pre- and post-cruise stays help draw out the dream.

Activities, excursions: our inspirational ideas

A secret trail, an uninterrupted view of the horizon, an inlet that's just right for undersea exploration, smells that precede delicious flavours: we offer you a wide range of optional excursions at every stopover. Here's a varied selection.

Bora Bora, Society Islands

Lagoonarium – Open-air 'aquarium' snorkelling experience

Lightweight outrigger canoes whizz along to the Lagoonarium in Bora Bora and its open-air parks. Sharks, rays, yellow jacks, turtles and parrotfish are just some of the inhabitants of these environments. Whether you're a beginner or an experienced snorkeller, you'll gradually move away from the beach and on to shallow waters. Local instructors will guide you to ensure a respectful and careful approach to these species, which are as varied as they are harmless.

€€€ | 3h30

Bora Bora off-road adventure

Lovers of wide-open spaces and off-road adventure should head for the hills of Bora Bora for a multi-stage excursion along the island's quietest road, in a four-wheel drive vehicle with driver. The craggy terrain winds through the village of Vaitape in Pofai Bay as far as Pahonu Hill, where you will enjoy an uninterrupted view of Bora Bora's natural harbour. The lush Fa'anui Valley overlooks the spectacular bay of the same name: a favourite spot for photography lovers.

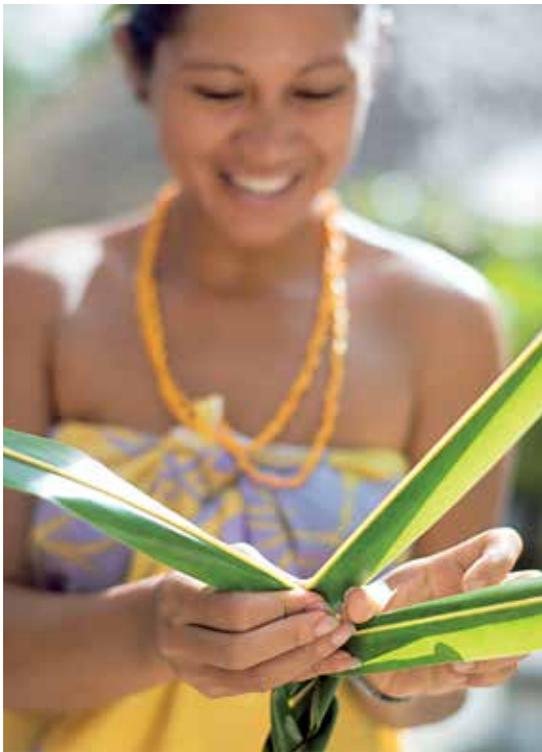

€€ | 3h30

Fakarava, Tuamotu Islands

WaveRunner & snorkelling

A wave of freedom washes over Fakarava as you climb aboard your WaveRunner. On the programme: exploration of the crystal-clear Fakarava Lagoon, followed by a tour of a pearl farm, one of the atoll's emblematic businesses. Along the way, a stop for a swim and snorkel, so you can explore beneath the surface and discover the multicoloured fish.

€€€€ | 1 h 30

Huahine, Society Islands

Motu picnic

Who better than one of our guests to tell you about this excursion? "This all-day excursion was truly multi-faceted!" she told us. "We took our places in a pirogue to begin snorkelling among the fish. Then, we were welcomed on a private islet with punch and cold drinks to enjoy by the water, along with ceviche prepared during a cookery workshop. Our Polynesian host also wove palm leaf crowns for us and showed us how to open a coconut. It was a wonderful shared experience." Read the full account on page 24.

€€€€ | 6h

Huahine Iti by e-bike

The aim of this e-bike experience is to cycle 27 km around the small island of Huahine. Your guide has created a varied programme combining tours of the archaeological remains of the ancient sacred site Marae Anini, of a traditional sarong painting workshop, followed by relaxation and several stops to admire the views. These few hours offer the ideal way to get into the rhythm of the island – that of the life of its inhabitants, or the regular whisper of the waves rolling in the distance.

€€ | 4h

Moorea, Society Islands

ATV guided tour

Undertaking the ascent of the steep hillside of Moorea in a four-wheel drive vehicle seems to make time stand still, with the jagged peaks as your focal point. Marvelling at the spectacular Cook and Ōpūnohu bays and Mount Rōtūi; crossing the rivers and pineapple plantations in the hollow of a valley; taking a break in a marae, an ancient temple in the middle of the countryside where you can reflect on the centres of Polynesian spiritual life... Revitalise yourself in the middle of the most abundant of gardens.

€€€€ | 3h

Aito off-road safari

The four-wheel drive vehicle goes off-road on the Moorea's beaten trails. The island is fertile and volcanic and produces the most mouthwatering of crops: the scents of vanilla, bananas and pineapples fill the air, while a track edged by grapefruit, lemon and orange trees leads to a lookout point over Ōpūnohu Bay. A profusion of fruit that you simply have to tuck into: the Moorea agricultural school will refresh you with home-made jams and ice creams. Further on, a stop-off at a factory making juices from local fruit, and at Moorea's distillery for a liqueur tasting, complete this panoramic gourmet day out.

€€ | 3h30

Rangiroa, Tuamotu Islands

Black pearl farm

Most pearl farms are small, this one is representative of the sector and introduces visitors to a highly prized crop that symbolises Polynesia. Farming, selection, sorting and cleaning of the oysters, evolution of the pearl-production industry... Watch the grafter at work as he skilfully exercises his trade: you'll see these delicate pearls in a different light.

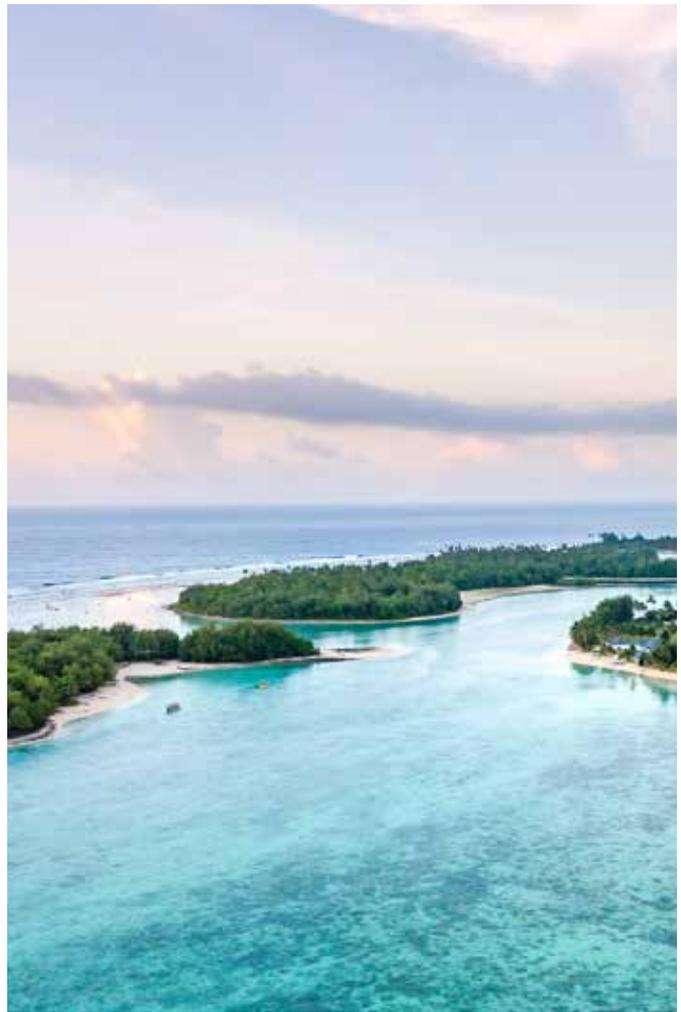

€ | 1h30

Rarotonga, Cook Islands

Muri lagoon cruise

Muri, Rarotonga's inland lagoon, reveals its underwater wonders to curious explorers aboard a glass-bottomed boat: coral and colourful fish unceasingly vie for your attention. More adventurous explorers can go snorkelling among the shoals of docile tropical fish.

€€€ | 3h

Omoa, Fatu Hiva Island, Marquesas Islands

Omoa petroglyphs walk

The remains of the dwelling or paepae of an ancient chief, with a tiki carved into the Marquesas' famous ke'etu stone; the crest of a ridge carved with images of men, magical tiki and ancient pirogues; the petroglyph of 'paoa', one of the biggest in the archipelago, which looks like a huge tuna fish cut into the rock... From one surprise to the next, walking along the Omoa Valley trails, in the footsteps of past generations of Marquesans, evokes elements of wise curiosity and reflection.

€€ | 3h

Taha'a, Society islands

Catamaran sail

With its flat base, the catamaran clears a way between the shallow waters in multiple shades of turquoise. Filling your lungs with ocean breeze, contemplating the beauty of Taha'a: these are the words that best describe the real joy you will experience. On board, the Tahitian hostesses will delight in sharing their culture, then, once you reach the coral garden, Taha'a's most famous snorkelling spot, the fast-moving craft will pause so guests can enjoy a refreshing dip.

€ € € | 3h30

Taha'a cultural tour

Known as 'the vanilla island', it's only natural that the discovery of Taha'a should begin through the prism of this black gold. The plantation tour, combined with a presentation, offers the perfect opportunity to get a better understanding of the challenges of this symbolic crop. A stop-off at the 'Motu Pearl Village' where the famous black pearl of Tahiti will reveal its secrets. History, legends and contemporary life on the island: no stone will be left unturned and curiosity is welcome!

€ € | 3h30

Price: € = less than € 50, € € = from € 50 to 100, € € € = from € 100 to 150, € € € € = more than € 150.

Tours on board Le Paul Gauguin are sold in US dollars. The dollar/euro conversion is made according to the exchange rate above as of August, 2021, and is likely to change. The final price of the excursion will be communicated to you in your travel book.

Vava'u, Tonga Islands

Ene'io Tongan feast

The island's inhabitants prepare a magnificent banquet in your honour, composed of local desserts and specialities, international dishes and seasonal fruit (papaya, watermelon, pineapple, banana) awaiting you in Tailulu, accompanied by traditional songs and dance. The simple specialities offered include a selection of local products: roast suckling pig, chicken, fish, lu pulu – corned-beef cooked in coconut cream, with baby taro leaves –, kumara (Tongan sweet potatoes)... A feast designed to awaken all your senses.

€€ | 4h

Savusavu, Vanua Levu Island, Fiji Islands

Nukubalavu village tour

A picturesque coastal road leads to the village of Nukubalavu, where the Supreme Chief of Savusavu lives. There, you will be greeted by the village elders and invited to take part in the kava ceremony: a plant that is similar to pepper, the powder of which is mixed with water, presented in a bilo – a coconut shell cup – and offered to those brave enough to taste the beverage. To learn more about their culture and traditional craft techniques, simply mingle with the villagers: sharing of human warmth guaranteed.

€€€ | 3h

Taiohae, Nuku Hiva Island, Marquesas Islands

Taipivai Valley excursion

Made famous by the writer and former mariner Herman Melville, who deserted his ship and hid there, the Taipivai Valley is one of the Marquesas' richest archaeological sites. Melville spent three weeks there observing the locals' way of life, an experience that inspired his first novel Typee (1846). This off-road adventure in local vehicles ventures through farming villages and offers many contemplative pauses, so guests can note their own impressions and observations...
